

Final Week of Meyers Remodeling Sale Special Prices Rule in Every Section

NEWS ABOUT OUR BUYER WHO IS NOW IN THE EASTERN MARKETS

Our Mr. H. W. Meyers reports that the suit length problem is one of the difficulties the manufacturers are contending with, and a great sameness has been brought out early that most of the merchants buying at home cannot overcome. They buy from the various lines shown here and cannot have the new things, such as are now being bought by the men on the ground.

Style, lines and general get-up are factors that he is giving his personal attention to, and the people hereabouts will be shown one of the swiftest lines of up-to-the-minute merchandise.

While on his mission to New York of buying Ready-to-Wear, he is not overlooking Holiday Goods, etc. He is taking advantage of protecting his firm by purchasing staple lines of merchandise that are advancing in price and are very scarce, owing to the war in Europe, and the fact of his buying in New York at this particular time is of great advantage to this big store, giving our unusual buying prestige a greater force and power.

The big remodeled store will be of more than usual interest this Fall. Take advantage and avail yourself of the first opportunity by paying us a visit—let us show you around, and you also will be proud of Salem's progressive and up-to-date store, the leaders in Good Goods and lowest prices consistent with all that goes to make a first-class shopping center.

Twenty-five Per Cent Reduction in Price on Newest Fall Models WOMEN'S SUITS and COATS

A very unusual opportunity is offered in this announcement. Think of buying garments of the very newest fashion in fabrics and colorings that are to be popular at such a saving. These garments were bought personally in New York and are so different from the ordinary kind. Visit the new Ready-to-Wear Section, and view them—try them on, too. These special prices terminate next Saturday—the last day of our Remodeling and Expansion Sale.

Wednesday Surprise Sale No. 704---CURTAIN NETS---Extra Special, Per Yard, Only 17 Cents

A special good purchase by our buyer who is now in New York enables us to sell this unusually good grade of curtain materials at this almost unheard-of price. Light ecru color, in several very pretty designs—about 42 inches wide and splendid value. If you need curtain goods don't fail to attend this special offering next Wednesday. Per yard. 17 CENTS
See Window Display. Sale Starts at 8:30.

Beautiful New Wool Fabrics for Coats, Suits and Dresses and an Exquisite Showing of New Silks Are Special Features Found in Our Piece Goods Section

This new mammoth stock of fabrics will interest all women who make or have their garments made here. The new assortments include all the latest weave conceptions and color blendings. Truly, it will pay you to look through this section and by purchasing during the remainder of the Remodeling and Expansion Sale, Special prices will save you considerable.

In a few days, and the question arises, Are your child's eyes all right? The best way to determine is to have a thorough examination of their eyes to see just what condition they are in.

Don't start them off by being handicapped with defective vision and the resulting nervousness. Give them at least as near equal chances with the rest of the children. You can do it, and it is up to you.

I do not use drops or drugs of any kind as they are dangerous. My examinations of the eyes are made by a modern, safer and more accurate means—measurement by scientific methods that give the exact defects of vision and enable me to fit you with glasses that will give you comfort and perfect sight.

Remember that I am especially equipped for the proper examination of children's eyes and guarantee all my work. I am able to refer you to nearly seven thousand people, among them over nine hundred children in Marion and Polk counties, whose eyes I have corrected, since locating in this city. No extra charge for examination.

A modern up-to-date heating plant is to be installed at the court house at a cost of about $3,000. The court house has always been heated by stoves, but when it was remodeled this summer it was found that a large number of new stoves would have to be purchased, and the county court decided to install a heating plant. Wood will be used as fuel.

Dollar watches at Stone's drugstore.

On account of the hot weather causing dogs to become affected with distemper, it has become necessary to shoot several, according to the police officers. Yesterday afternoon a large dog was shot in South Salem on account of his peculiar actions. It was feared that he might develop rabies.

Members of the G. A. R. posts from Woodburn and Silverton gathered in the armory this afternoon in the quarters of Sedgwick post No. 10, for the purpose of forming a veterans' association. There were quite a number of delegates present. The meeting was in session late this afternoon.

F. W. Peterson, of St. Paul, was a visitor at the Salem Commercial club this morning. He says the people in that part of the county are preparing for the opening of the hop picking season shortly. The hop growers, according to his statement, believe the crop will be cut one-fourth on account of the continued dry weather of the past few weeks. If rain would come now, it would be too late to do the grain much good. Late grain will be light and short in yield.

Peaches for sale. At R. B. Ryan's public market, Early Crawford's for sale at 30c a box. These boxes contain 30 pounds each and equal a crate and a half. They are picked ripe and are far superior in flavor to any other peach on the market.

Since the publication in the Capital Journal of the interview with C. O. C. Stastide, commissioner concerning the charter committee, he says he has been deluged with questions by citizens who are asking what is going to be done about it. From the opinions expressed by these people Mr. Constable believes that if the committee has framed up a measure that is any way reasonable that the people will pass it.

Grass hoppers, according to reports from Jefferson way, are playing havoc with orchards. They are reported to have started an army of invasion into an orchard and devoured the leaves on a large number of the trees. Unlike the Germans, who stopped at Liege, the grass hoppers keep on going and never turn back.

Very important to ladies! We desire to announce to the ladies of Salem that all next week we shall have with us Miss H. Coleman, a noted beauty specialist from the famous Harmony Toilet Goods laboratories at Boston. Miss Coleman will give free personal advice and a free facial massage in your own home. This is your opportunity to obtain valuable advice on the care of the skin. Those who desire to take advantage of this opportunity will ask to telephone at once and make arrangements for appointments. Perry's Drug Store.

About two o'clock this morning an automobile was speeding along East State street close to the curb on the south side. At Thirteenth the street narrowed and at that point the automobile struck the curb and bounded into the parking. This morning there were parts of an automobile scattered all along the block. The machine limped away with only two wheels and was taken to a garage. No one was reported injured, but the occupants were considerably shaken up.

O. O. Constable, chairman of the fire and water committee of the Salem council, received notification this morning that the first shipment of fire hydrants that were ordered recently by the council had arrived here from Seattle. These are part of the six that were on the coast and ready for delivery and was the cause of the council making the purchase. The rest will be shipped from the factory in New York and will get here in about twenty days.

At 3 and 5 o'clock p. m. tomorrow, Mr. Morton will speak at the Salem Commons, 241 State street. Those who have had the privilege of hearing him once more. As a refined orator, Mr. Morton stands decidedly in a class of his own. Come early and join in the song service. Special singing. All denominations and nationalities cordially welcomed.

A license was issued today for the marriage of Eugene F. Duncan, a Salem expressman, and Jessie E. McElroy, also of this city.

Rev. and Mrs. Lindley Wells and Mrs. Josephine Hockett are attending a quarterly conference at Scott's Mills today. The members of the Highland church have been gratified with the camp meeting sermons which Evangelist Wells has been delivering in the vicinity of the Friends church. He has been chosen to speak before an assembly at Scott's Mills today, but will return for the Sunday services in Salem.

John Brown, a fuzzy wuzzy looking individual, who was found wandering about in the suburbs, was brought in to the police station about 2 o'clock this afternoon and lodged in jail. He had nothing to say and his name was learned only by means of pencil and paper. When asked what he was doing he wrote: "I was begging for money." He was immediately remanded to the cooler. Officer Spencer brought him in on the motorcycle.

D. D. Thompson, who lives at 551 North Summer street, reported to the police this morning that he had been robbed yesterday while working on a house on Fourteenth street between State and Court. A check on Ladd & Bush's bank for $8 payable to Earl Gady, a receipt from Weller Brothers for a sack of flour, and some money in change were taken from his clothes while he was working. Small sums were taken from purses in other coats. No clue has been found so far leading to the identity of the criminal.

John Siegmund, alias "Honest John," well known to the police of this city and other citizens, proved himself a hero yesterday. Carefully wiping his spectacles on his trusty red handkerchief, and leaving his coat into a rose bush, he rushed out upon the street and stopped a driverless horse which was dashing madly down the street at a mile-a-minute gait. Siegmund rubbed old Dobbin on the nose, and after soothing the animal, which was writhing under the attack of a horsefly, he led it down to Heidegger's barn to await the coming of its owner, Mr. Seligman is prominently mentioned as a dark horse candidate for mayor.

In another week the threshing season of 1914 will be practically a thing of the past, according to a statement of Harley O. White, of the firm of D. A. White & Son, grain dealers. On account of the excessive heat of the past two weeks the grain yield has been cut short considerably. This decrease will probably reduce the 1914 crop below that of last year. It will be less than an average. On the contrary the hay yield has been extra heavy. Farmers during the past two weeks have been inclined to hold their wheat but there has been more selling during the past few days. On account of the lack of transportation, it is expected that the market will drag for some time.

The marriage market took a brace today when four licenses were issued at the county clerk's office. The theatrical little god with the mythical arrows rounded up two grooms-to-be in John Paris and John F. Latham, who were over 60 years of age. Licenses were issued to Chester D. Ford and Florence E. Bluncke, both of Salem; John Paris, a Salem farmer, and Melvin Barton, also of Salem; Chauncey E. Reeves, a farmer of Turner, and Lea Mayers, also of Turner, and John F. Latham and Mrs. Ida Steinback. Mr. Latham is the owner of a paint manufacturing plant in this city.

The Oregon jewelers, in session at Portland yesterday, elected the following officers: Isaac E. Staples of Portland, re-elected president; C. H. Morris of Dallas, first vice president; Miss Ella Mead of Albany, second vice president; C. E. Paige of Clatskanie, third president; Frank A. Heitkenper of Portland, re-elected secretary-treasurer; F. M. French of Albany and Herman Barr of Salem, members of the executive committee. At the morning session Frank A. Heitkenper was chosen delegate from the association to the convention of the National Retail Jewelers' association, to be held in Chicago, August 24-29. Herman W. Barr of Salem was chosen as alternate.

Dr. Alden, formerly an instructor in the University of Washington, who was elected to be dean of the college of liberal arts of Willamette university, arrived in Salem this morning and immediately went into consultation with Dr. Fletcher Homan, president of the university. Matters relating to the opening of school were discussed. Dr. Alden expects to be here until Tuesday, when he will return to Seattle and prepare to bring his family here for the school year. He will then return to Salem about September 1. O. Thompson, physical director was here today also, and spent some time consulting with Dr. Homan. He is looking for a house to rent for the coming year and expects to move to Salem about September 10.

That the troubles of the Wright family of Turner will be finally aired in court is indicated by an answer filed in the circuit court denying most of the allegations contained in a complaint for a divorce filed by Alfred S. Wright some time ago. Ilene K. Wright, the defendant, was charged with adultery in the complaint filed by her husband. This charge she absolutely denies in her answer and further claims that the charge is the persecution on her husband's part because she would not turn over her property to him. She claims that her husband assigned his property to his brother, Harvey Wright, and that when she would not sign the deeds he told her that he would prosecute her on the above charge. Mrs. Wright asks for $25 a month alimony and $25 a month more for keeping their child.

The time set for the imposition of the life sentence upon Roy Carroll, convicted of murder in the second degree for the killing of Marshal John Zoller, of Gervais, was again postponed this afternoon. Judge Kelly granted a week's extension of time, and at 10 o'clock next Saturday the sentence will be imposed and the motion for a new trial argued. In making the motion for an extension of time today, Attorney Smith stated that he was on the track of evidence that he was confident would assist materially in the defense of the prisoner and would form the basis for an argument for a new trial. Judge Kelly stated that while he was adverse to any further continuances, that he thought a week's time would satisfy the ends of justice but that he would consider no further motions on the part of the defense for continuances. District Attorney Ringo objected to further delay, but was assured by the judge that in case any new developments came up that he would be granted plenty of time to meet them.
